

926 Penobscot Harbour • Pasadena, MD 21122
Office/Fax 410-360-1863 • E-mail FHughesJr@comcast.net
www.FredHughes.com

The Fred Hughes Band

Fred Hughes – piano

For more than two decades Fred Hughes has performed, conducted and presented workshops across America and throughout Europe and Asia. By age 25, Fred had long been recognized as an up and coming conductor and world class jazz pianist for his work with the First Army Band, Fort Meade, Maryland and the Eighth Army Band in Seoul, Korea.

In 1981, Fred formed the jazz group Just Friends and recorded six albums for Oasis/EMI Records. Just Friends performed for sold out houses and to live radio and television broadcasts throughout the Korean Peninsula. During the same period, Fred served as the rehearsal conductor and jazz coach for the MBC Pops Orchestra in Seoul, Korea.

Fred's musical artistry has afforded him opportunities to perform as guest pianist and soloist on over thirty recordings and at such prestigious jazz festivals as the Newport, Montreux, Nice and North Sea Jazz Festivals. He has performed with the Lancaster Symphony Orchestra, the Kennedy Center Orchestra and the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra as well as with jazz greats Claudio Roditi, Al Cohn, Arturo Sandoval, Roy Hargrove, Bill Watrous, and Toots Thielemans.

His conducting credits include the Cincinnati Pops Orchestra, Atlanta and Grand Rapids Symphony Orchestras, Washington and Lyric Opera Orchestras and the Los Angeles Philharmonic. Currently, Fred is the musical supervisor and conductor for Cook, Dixon and Young, formerly known as the Three Mo' Tenors and is the author of The Jazz Pianist: Left Hand Voicings and Chord Theory published by Warner Brothers Publications.

Juanita Williams – vocals

Juanita is definitely a woman whose time has arrived. Beyond the dazzling looks is an intelligent, multi-talented performer with an impressive record of accomplishment and a limitless future.

She studied music at the Fine Arts Conservatory of Greater Miami and T la Pierre School of Music. Her Mother, Doris has had the greatest influence on her vocal career. It was she who first realized Juanita's musical talents and at a very young age taught her proper vocal technique. This early training was classical but it prepared her for the varied musical styles she performs today.

Juanita's rapport with live audiences, combined with her God given ability and mesmerizing stage presence have been the driving force behind her acclaimed singing career. She has shared the stage with such noted artist as Bob Hope, Wayne Newton, Carol Lawrence, Florence Henderson, Roy Clark, Victor Borga, Diane Schurr, Clint Holmes, The Whispers, The Letterman, and the legendary Mr. Joe Williams just to name a few. She has been a special guest vocalist at the Detroit/Montreux, Mobile, Miami, and Cape May Jazz Festivals. She has performed at the White House for President Bill Clinton and has appeared live on "Nashville Now".

Juanita believes that music is a nation's most effective means for fostering goodwill and understanding, because music breaks down all walls. Juanita's gift, professionalism, and commitment to excellence will take her a long way in the entertainment business. Add to that an enchanting blend of soft southern gentility, a fiery determination to share her gift with the world and a large amount of just plain niceness, and you'll see what star quality is all about.

Thomas Williams – bass

Thomas Williams' musical experience is vast and varied. He has appeared with jazz legends Dizzy Gillespie, Louie Bellson, Slide Hampton, and such jazz notables as Diane Schurr, Claudio Roditi, Arturo Sandoval, and James Moody.

He has performed at many of the world's most prestigious jazz festivals, including the Newport Jazz Festival and the Toronto Jazz Festival. His show experience includes performances with Bob Hope, Steve Allen, The Drifters, and Little Anthony and the Imperials. A former member of the prestigious Airmen of Note, Thomas was a featured soloist with the band and many of his compositions and arrangements were performed at major music and jazz festivals including the Detroit Montreux Cool Jazz festival.

Thomas' recording career spans over 20 years. He recorded 10 albums with the Airmen of Note, 2 CD's with the Fred Hughes Trio, and most recently with famed Brazilian trumpeter Claudio Roditi in Rio de Janeiro.

Thomas Williams has enjoyed numerous successes with his writing including a first place award from the Mid-Atlantic Song Writing Contest and the use of his compositions for the nationally broadcasted television program, "Lifestyles of the Rich and Famous".

Thomas has conducted clinics and seminars for many of the nation's leading high schools, colleges and universities as well as for the 1994 and 1996 International Association of Jazz Educators conferences. He has participated in the Stanford Jazz Workshop for the past two years.

Frank Russo – drums

Raised in a New York City jazz family, Frank completed a distinguished career with the Navy Band where he performed in and led several dynamic ensembles. He is currently a busy freelance musician in the Baltimore/Washington, D.C. area and has a full schedule as a drum instructor/clinician.

Frank's performances include the Detroit Jazz Festival, Ottawa Jazz Festival, Stan Getz Jazz Festival, East Coast Jazz Festival and many other national venues. He has devoted extensive time to recording in the studio in a variety of musical settings as evidenced by his previous recordings released as leader, "All the Way" and "Snapshot".

Most recently Russo's creative drumming can be heard on Fred Hughes' Summit Records release "No Turning Back" and Frank's own trio recording "Quiet Now". He also is co-leader with saxophonist Pete BarenBregge for a brand new Summit recording "PF Flyer" and on upcoming releases from pianist Doug Bickel and guitarist Tom Lagana. Frank is proud to be performing on maple drums designed by Keith Larsen and on Bosphorus cymbals.

Dave Cosby – guitar

Guitarist and Composer Dave Cosby is a musician and educator whose work defies the boundaries of genre and style. While trained in traditional and mainstream jazz at Rutgers University's famed jazz program at the Mason Gross School for the Arts, his musical sensibilities as a performer and composer express interests and influences that traverse multiple musical categories and musical cultures.

Born and raised in Baltimore Maryland, Dave was exposed to the sounds of Jazz, Motown, and the British Invasion, from an early age. Upon Graduation from Rutgers University in 1992, David began pursuing a career as a bandleader, sideman, and educator. Completing class work towards a Master's Degree in Historical Musicology at the University of Virginia, Dave moved to the Northern Virginia area where he has been an active performer on the jazz, Hip-Hop, and alternative folk scene, as well as doing studio work, and maintaining an active teaching schedule.

Dave has played many major concert venues and festivals including: The Kennedy Center, The Meyerhoff Concert Hall, Artscape, Blues Alley, The Maryland Wine Festival, The Corcoran Art Gallery, The Phillips Collection, and even Thomas Jefferson's famous Rotunda at the University of Virginia.

In 1996, Dave won a Jazz Study Fellowship from the National Endowment for the Arts. Although Dave currently teaches out of his private studio in Alexandria Virginia, he has taught at the Jazzmobile in Harlem, for the National Guitar Workshop, for National Music Workshop's Day Jams, as well as for Mars Music, and Music and Art Centers.